Gloves are up, Spirits are high at Central MS prison

PEARL - Central Mississippi Correctional Facility Programs Warden George King believes the future of the prison's boxing program is bright.

The Top Dog Boxing Team recently hosted an exhibition event that brought energy, discipline, teamwork, and sportsmanship to the Rankin County prison. Sponsored by Superintendent Matt Reynolds, the Executive Staff, and a community partnership with the local Rankin County boxing gym, the event showcased the positive impact structured programs can have in our facilities.

Under the leadership of Superintendent Reynolds, Deputy Superintendent Denise Bone, and King, four exhibition matches took place, each consisting of three rounds at three minutes each. The atmosphere was electric as participants demonstrated heart, conditioning, focus, and determination inside the ring.

Special thanks to Coach "BomBay" for serving as referee and helping maintain a professional and competitive environment throughout the event.

The Top Dog Boxing Program continues to prove that discipline, accountability, structure, and positive competition can create opportunities for growth and change. Events like this help build morale, encourage healthy outlets, and reinforce the values of teamwork and perseverance. A huge thank you to all staff, sponsors, coaches, and fighters who made the May event possible.
