

Inmates complete Getting Ahead While Getting Out program at Delta state prison

GREENWOOD – Fifteen women at the Delta Correctional Facility have completed a six-month program aimed at equipping them with essential life skills and resources necessary for successful reintegration into their communities.

Getting Ahead While Getting Out, or GAWGO, provides support in areas such as immediate assistance, housing, food assistance, financial literacy, employment opportunities, and overall re-entry support.

The women's achievement was celebrated with an incentive meal and gift bags.
