

September 11, 2025

Inmates graduate from vocational training programs

HOLLY SPRINGS – The Marshall County Correctional Facility recently held an NCCER graduation for inmates who received certification in welding, HVAC, plumbing, and electrical trades.

"It was truly a blessing to witness these individuals take significant steps to better their lives through the acquisition of trade certifications," said Supt. Frank Caswell (shown in the first picture standing at the podium).

